

ABSTRACT

Health is wealth, we are familiar with this proverb by words, but now the time come that everyone strives to have a good health. The peoples started giving importance to health.

By looking at all these scenarios we have come up with a solution. How to be healthy is the question arises the answer is with us it is so simple that by consuming organic products. That's why we are providing health home delivery [by delivering the organic fruits] directly. The organic farmer will deliver the organic fruits to the doorstep of the buyers.

This is what the people wants now a days. By our project we can encourage the organic farming and the health rate of our country.
